IDENTIFICATION

However, if your mare is recently imported please ensure that an Import Application is submitted to the Stud Book and that a copy of the mare's ID is sent through to the Aquis Office prior to covering.

If any vaccinated mares are staying overnight please ensure they are wearing a name tag or neck strap with name on.

BOOKING MARES IN FOR SERVICE

Please ensure that as much notice as possible (email or phone call) is given to the Aquis office of a mare being lined up for service.

Advising us on the day you are hoping to get your mare served or the day before service is NOT enough notice as it makes the task of fitting all the mares in very difficult.

As we aim to be fair with everyone, we do ask that this is adhered to.

SCAN RESULTS

Please notify the Aquis office of all positive and negative scan results including those whose status may change i.e. positive at first scan and negative at mid scan etc.

45 day Pregnancy Certificates to be signed by your Veterinarian and emailed to the Aquis office. Once a Positive 45 day Pregnancy Certificate is issued, please advise of mares whose status may change i.e. a subsequent Negative pregnancy test or slips her pregnancy for the current breeding season and again please provide a Veterinary Certificate stating the fact.

DISEASE CONTROL

Please advise the office of any mare or foal that has been in contact with any horses that have been infected with Strangles/EHV outbreaks/Rotavirus/Scours. We can then implement procedures to deal with such situations and protect against any cross-contamination between Walk In Farms and ourselves.

MARES ARRIVING TO FOAL AT AQUIS QLD

We would like all pregnant mares to arrive 5 weeks out from their respective foaling dates in order for us to isolate them for a couple of weeks prior to joining the resident broodmare band.

MARE RETURNS

Aquis can continue to lodge Mare Returns on a client's behalf if requested however the Australian Stud Book also requires a signed Foal Ownership Declaration Form to be lodged in order for the Mare Return to be processed. The form(s) must be signed by each owner in the foal, therefore we cannot lodge any forms on your behalf. For more information regarding this new requirement please visit www.studbook.org.au or www.racingaustralia.horse
